AOS Ware Announces New Management, Investors

Jersey City, NJ (4.15.09) – AOS Ware, a leading provider of eCommerce systems and back-end business management software for the Office Products Industry has announced organizational changes to their Senior Management teams.

In his new role as Chief Executive Officer, Seth Schulman will realign the business strategy and continue to move the company forward with the latest innovations in technology. “Our eCommerce products are unique to the market as they allow our clients to take advantage of custom designed graphic packages, search engine-friendly infrastructures and payment options such as Google Checkout and reporting via Google Analytics”, explains Mr. Schulman. AOS Ware has made it a priority to bring these options to the table and will continue to leverage the latest technology on their systems.

Additional resource allocations have also been given to the Graphic Design and Product Development departments in order to meet the increasing demand for AOS Ware’s services. “The company is growing at a rapid pace, and we are committed to not only enhancing our products with features currently not offered in the marketplace, but providing excellent support & service to all of our customers”, explains the new Director of Product Development, Dave Stewart.

AOS Ware has also announced the formation of their new Investor Board. The company was previously owned by a single private investor, with ties in the Office Products industry. “We are very lucky to have had, and will continue to have to some extent, the experience of learning and testing our products with someone who has been in this industry for over 13 years, but our new investors are very excited about the growth and potential of the company, and are ready to move forward with all our big plans”, concludes Mr. Schulman.
