Step One: Add Your Items

Easily add products to your custom quote.

- Manually type, import or enter custom stock numbers into the quote.
- Compare your prices to competitors.

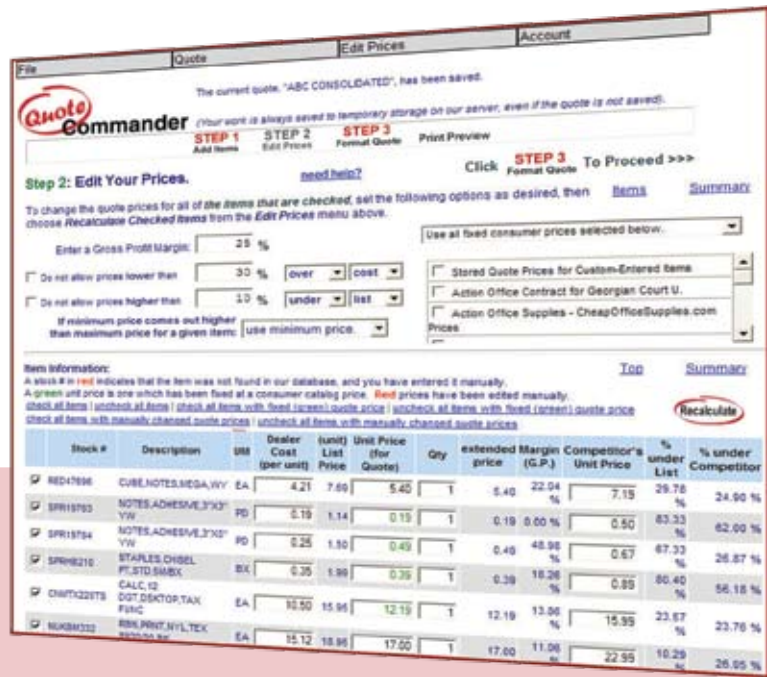

A screenshot of the Quote Commander web interface. At the top, it says "You are logged in" and "The current quote has not been saved yet." Below that, a note states "(Your work is always saved to temporary storage on our server, even if the quote is not saved)." The interface has a navigation bar with "STEP 1 Add Items", "STEP 2 Edit Prices", "STEP 3 Format Quote", and "Print Preview". A "Click STEP 2 To Proceed >>>" button is visible. The main heading is "Step 1: Add items to Quote." Below this, it says "You have entered 0 items into this quote so far. To add another item, enter its stock # below." There is a text input field for "Stock #:" and an "Add Item" button. A "Click here to import a file" button is also present. A "NOTE" section follows, stating "The price fields below are optional at this step. You will have a chance to edit them later on. You may type them now if you find it more convenient." There are input fields for "Competitor's Price:" and "Unit Price for this Quote:". A final note says "Quantities can also be edited at step 2. If you leave this field blank, a quantity of 1 is entered." There is a "Quantity:" input field.

Step Two: Edit Your Items

Modify the pricing for each individual item or for the entire quote.

- Make across-the-board changes in seconds for large amounts of SKU numbers.
- Calculate the pricing, mark-ups, costs, and list prices.

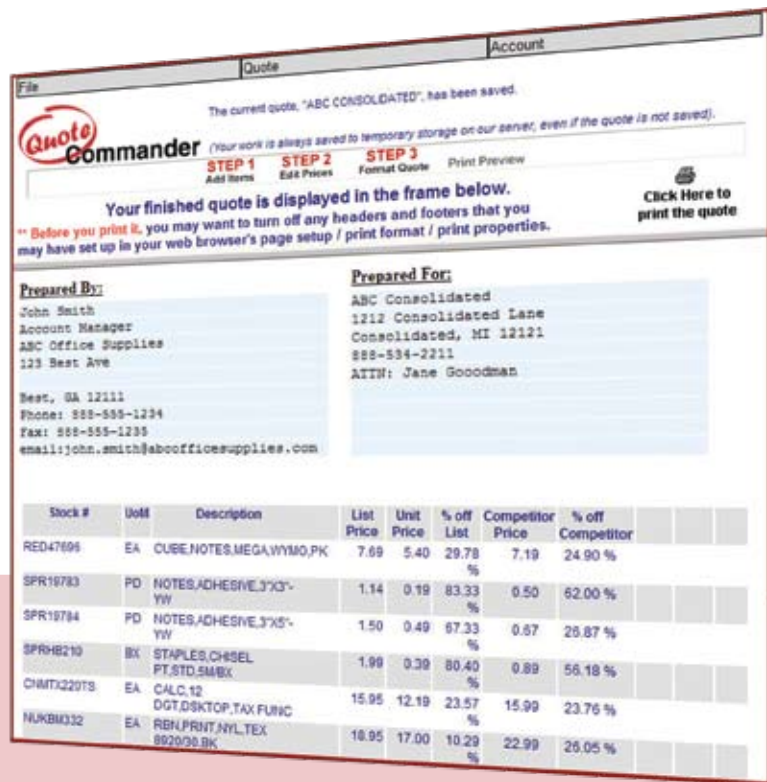

2

Step Three: Print & Save Your Quote

Your quote is formatted and presented in a quote or order form to be printed for your customer.

- All fields are editable.
- Customize even further by adding your company logo.
- Save your quote to the system for easy retrieval.
